Week 1

Identity:

Who/what are we?

Who/what are we not?

What Anglicanism is not...

(less emphasis)

- Confessional
- Doctrinal
- Dogmatic
- Systematic

What Anglicanism is...

- A “unique way of looking, making sense, and acting in the experience of God disclosed to us in the person of Jesus Christ...”

– Urban Holmes
- Both catholic and protestant...
 - Catholic sacramental theology
 - Protestant focus on Scripture
- And more....

What it is....

- Ambiguous
 - Via media - middle way between extremes
 - Tension between unresolved issues
- Comprehensive
 - Community of thought vs. definitive position

What it is...

- Sacramental, mystical
 - God as loving, caring, open
 - Not judgmental, rigid
 - Incarnational
 - The love of God expressed in ordinary things
 - Ordinary things raised to a higher level
 - Use of “real” bread, wine, flowers, etc. whenever possible
 - Finding God in the ordinariness of life
 - “Extraordinary shines through the ordinary”
 - Often artistic
 - Liturgy, poetry, music, life

Basic Anglican Understandings

- We PRAY together, in the vernacular/s of the community
- In communion with Canterbury, worldwide
- Use of some descendant of the Book of Common Prayer (usually)
- “via media” = middle way between extremes
 - Elizabethan Settlement (Elizabeth I, 1559):
“I will not make windows into men’s souls”

Anglican Authority

- Recognizes and values relationships
 - Differences, otherness contribute to celebration of God's Creation
- Provides liturgical grounding for mission
 - More than worship, but worship most important community event
- Authority comes from God, not humans
 - Calls for power-sharing relationships everywhere in church and society
 - Clergy, bishops, Archbishop of Canterbury not "in control" of others, but "in communion with"

Anglican Authority: “Three-Legged Stool”

1. Scripture

2. Tradition

3. Reason
